

Cancellation Announcement of HEC 2020

Dear exhibitors, visitors, industry colleagues and media,

Affected by the COVID-19 pandemic, the 21st Hobby Expo China (abbreviation: HEC 2020), originally scheduled to be held in April this year, plan to be postponed to September 18-20 in Beijing. Since then, the organizing committee has been cooperating with related units such as exhibitors and service providers to actively prepare for this exhibition. In view of the fact that Beijing still has not fully resumed the necessary conditions for holding large-scale commercial exhibitions, and the preparation time for HEC 2020 is seriously insufficient, the ideal effect of the exhibition cannot be guaranteed. We have to officially announce the cancellation of HEC 2020.

The exhibition working group will also wholeheartedly provide you with the follow-up service of the exhibition. We hope that the impact of the epidemic will subside as soon as possible, and we look forward to seeing you all at the Hobby Expo China next year.

Best Regards,

HEC organizing committee
